THE SUPERVISORSHIP

DRY FORCES IN FIFTH DISTRICT HAVE NO CANDIDATE IN THE FIELD

The day after this brief article appears, an election occurs which is of immense importance in many respects, as questions are to be decided and officials chosen affecting our material and moral welfare for perhaps years to come. This is intended to deal with only one of the matters to be decided by the voters, and that is the choice of a supervisor. Glendale is particularly interested in this subject by reason of the candidacy of a Glendale man. The matter ought to be more simple than it is, but it has been complicated (unwisely, the writer believes) by the injection into it of a question which by reason of the fact that many voters rightly or wrongly regard it as of paramount importance, confuses the judgment of some people.

In selecting a man for the important position of supervisor, the people should demand that he be honest and competent, all others matters are subsidiary, such as his place of residence and whether he is personally agreeable to us as individuals. However, the fact must be admitted that there are voters who insist upon other alleged qualifications, one of these at the present time being, is he "wet" or "dry."

It is proposed herein to deal candidly with this matter, sticking to absolute facts. The first fact is that the "dry" forces have no candidate in the field—the linotyper may emphasize this, for it is an absolute, incontrovertible fact. Some of the political prohibitionists (this does not reflect upon those who support that idea from motives of principle) have endeavored since the beginning of the campaign to convey the impression that Mr. Jonathan Dodge of South Pasadena measures up to the full requirements of the "drys." Mr. Dodge himself has not given any pledge of this kind, nor has he any record as a prohibitionist, furthermore he is not a total abstainer, as can be proved by very good evidence. He has recently promised to vote "dry;" this he can easily do and be largely the gainer from an office seeker's standpoint, as he will be giving just one vote for the many he hopes to receive in return. Early in the campaign, two months or so before the primary election occurred, a lady wrote to Mr. Dodge, asking him how he intended to vote on amendments one and two. Mr. Dodge replied in effect (I cannot quote his words) that he had not made up his mind. And yet as early as this a Mr. Burger was busily engaged over the district representing that Mr. Dodge was all right from a "dry" standpoint. If anyone doubts the exact truth of this statement I refer him to Mr. H. Clay Needham, the well known Prohibitionist, who remarked to the writer of this that he thought it was high time that any intelligent man had made up his mind on a matter of such importance. (Mr. Needham is a Prohibitionist from principle.) Now assuming a situation quite different from the facts, that Mr. Dodge had recently given unquestionable assurance that he was in favor of "California dry," would any sensible man or woman be willing to give him any credit for the eleventh hour conversion on the eve of an election at which he was a candidate? Would not the conversion under the circumstances rather reflect upon the honesty of the subject of it?

Now, Glendale has a rare opportunity, which may not come again in many years, of electing one of our own residents as one of the five supervisors of the county. As remarked above, the question of residence is not of prime importance, that is to the district at large, but to Glendale in this instance it is of much importance from the standpoint of intelligent self-interest. It would be of very considerable material advantage to us to have a resident supervisor; it would give us more favorable mention than could be secured by all the advertising our Chamber of Commerce is likely to do for some time to come. It would, no doubt, result in the giving of employment to a considerable number of Glendale people; it would bring patronage of many kinds our way, all to the great advantage of the community by the bestowal of favors such as are always regarded as legitimate and not to the disadvantage of any other section.

Mr. Stephen C. Packer went into this contest on the request of something like two thousand citizens of the district, most of them in Glendale. Among the signers of his petition are the names of a majority of the ministers at that time in Glendale in active service. He has conducted an energetic campaign along legitimate lines; he has been at all times honest and consistent; he has in no way tried to deceive the people. He is an honest, capable man and more free from control of "big interests" than his competitor; he has pledged himself to do all in his power, if elected, to aid in the enforcement of all the laws—no one can promise more, and his record is such that it gives assurance that he will keep his word. The only opposition of any consequence in his home city comes from people who have been imposed upon and made to believe that his opponent stands for something desirable to which Mr. Packer is not pledged—the above ought to convince such people that they are mistaken and that loyalty to the city in which they live and all essentials of a fair deal and an enlightened self-interest prompt them to support Mr. Packer at the polls in that spirit of enthusiasm which the object of it deserves and so carry him on to success. J. C. SHERER.
November 6th.

Show your loyalty to the Glendale community by voting for Stephen C. Packer for supervisor tomorrow.

COMMERCIAL FIGHT

THE DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION NOT TO BE TRUSTED WITH TASK AHEAD

(Contributed by W. E. Hewitt)

"After the war—a commercial fight, three-cornered, between America, the allies and the entente, as ruthless and as well organized as the military struggle now going on.

"American will need a government equipped to lead the industries and commerce of the nation against practically the entire civilized world.

"The Democratic administration, consisting principally of southerners, delightful gentlemen, but largely cotton raisers, a few commercial men and mighty poor industrial captains, is not to be trusted with the task ahead.

"The employer and the employe may disagree as to the division of profits, but as to keeping the factory going, they're in the same boat and their interests are one.

"The wage earner is just as much in business as the dealer or the producer. They've got to stand together to give America a government capable of handling the big industrial and commercial fight that will come with the ending of the war, or we'll all suffer.

"The spirit of nationalism has been aroused so strongly in the warring countries that for commercial and industrial purposes, people and government will be one. The United States must follow suit."—Detroit Free Press.

WHY I'M FOR WILSON

Since many of our leading male citizens are voicing their reasons for voting for their favorite presidential candidate, I think it is well to hear from a few of the opposite sex.

I do not claim any party affiliations, though as far back as I can remember my ancestors have voted the Republican ticket. I first registered "not stated," but because of a freak California law, had to re-register as Democratic in order to vote at the primaries for the electors pledged to elect the man I wished to see elected on November 7th for president.

First, from a woman's standpoint, I would not vote for any man I believe to be insincere.

I would not vote for a man like Hughes who has not voted at all since 1910, and who did NOT register or vote for woman's suffrage in New York in 1915. Contrast his action in this matter to President Wilson, who made two special trips from Washington to New Jersey to register and vote for woman suffrage.

Neither would I vote for Mr. Hughes after knowing that when he was governor of New York he vetoed a bill the legislature had passed granting women teachers equal wages with men teachers.

I would not vote for a man who, for the sake of political expediency, jumped his party platform, declared himself in favor of the proposed national suffrage amendment, thus hoping to use the declaration as a spring board to land him in the suffrage lap of the women.

He well knows this proposed amendment requires a two-third majority vote in both houses of congress to pass the necessary resolution and that no one party can give the two-third majority in both houses because not enough representatives of any one party are in power.

He also knows that after favorable action by both houses, the proposed amendment, to become effect-

BRITISH EVACUATE POSITIONS ON SOMME

GEN. HAIG'S MEN FORCED TO GIVE UP UNCONSOLIDATED GROUND RECENTLY WON FROM TEUTONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Some of the advanced positions recently taken from the Germans by General Haig's men at the Butte de Warlencourt, was subjected to powerful assaults by the Germans who proceeded in force against the unconsolidated trenches. The British, unable to put the trenches into shape for resistance, were compelled to evacuate them and fall back on the main body of the advance.

COUNTER ATTACKS ON POSITIONS AT SAILLY-SALLISEL PUT TEUTONS IN POSSESSION OF TRENCHES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The Germans have kept on making strong counter-attacks on the positions recently won at Sailly-Sallisel by the French divisions devoted to that work by General Foch. The repeated assaults of the Germans were repulsed with great loss, but their final assault put them in possession of some of their lost trenches.

STATE DEPT. TRIES TO PROTECT AMERICANS

UNITED STATES CITIZENS IN PARRAL ARE IN SERIOUS DANGER FROM VILLA'S BRIGANDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Nov. 6.—Parral, abandoned by the Carranzistas, has been left to the mercies of the militant Villa brigands. The Americans in the city are believed to have been left behind by the Carranzistas and to be entirely without protection. The state department at Washington is doing what it can by telegraphing to Mexico City and elsewhere to get some protection for the United States citizens left behind. It is rumored that Dr. Fisher, an American married to a Mexican lady, has been shot and killed at Santa Rosalia. It is also rumored that General Pershing has been ordered to Parral with his troops to protect American lives there.

SEVEN KILLED IN I.W.W. BATTLE WITH POSSE

FIGHT AT EVERETT, WASH., RESULTS IN LONG LIST OF CASUALTIES ON BOTH SIDES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EVERETT, Wash., Nov. 6.—Six men were killed outright and one has died since in a battle between a boatload of 250 I. W. W.'s who sought to land at this city, after their fellows had been expelled. The band of Industrial Workers of the World arrived at the pier on the steamer Verona, and were held up by Sheriff McRae and a posse of 150 citizens. The sheriff forbade the company to land and immediately a shot was fired from the ship which provoked a fusillade from both sides. The Verona was riddled with bullets and five of the I. W. W.'s were killed ouright. About twenty were wounded on each side. Deputy Sheriff Beard, who received two serious chest wounds, died a few hours after the battle.

LLOYDS' AGENCY ANNOUNCES THAT STEAMSHIP LANAO OF NEW YORK HAS BEEN TORPEDOED

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Lloyd's agency reports that the American steamship Lanao was held up by a German submarine and deliberately sunk. Details as to the safety of the crew are lacking. It is believed that they were given permission to leave the vessel in the small boats.

QUESTIONABLE TACTICS

UNSCRUPULOUS PERSONS DISSEMINATE FALSEHOODS FOR SUPPORT

The great majority of voters, must, perforce, receive their information regarding the qualifications of candidates for office as a matter of hearsay. Unless you, Mr. or Mrs. Voter, are intimately acquainted with the one seeking your suffrage you must depend on common report, the article in the paper, the word of advice from a friend, a personal "sizing up" if you meet him in political meetings or elsewhere, for your knowledge of his merits and fitness for the position he seeks.

In all times of political stress, advantage has been taken of this fact by unscrupulous persons to disseminate among the people cleverly garbed falsehoods to masquerade as the truth and thereby to gain for themselves or the ones they support, votes, and to bring, if possible, to their opponent, defeat. That this ancient and dishonorable practice is not yet relegated to the discard by the increasing probity in politics is emphasized to the voters of the Fifth Supervisoral district in our county by the persistent, malicious, untruthful statements and insinuations to the effect that Stephen C. Packer of Glendale is a "wet" candidate. It is reported that a woman goes to homes where she knows the sentiment is "dry" and advocates the cause of Mr. Packer, ending her remarks by saying, "you know our prosperity is endangered by amendments 1 and 2. Mr. Packer is all right. He is wet." or words to that effect; that a man goes to a community which is dry and argues to the people against the amendments and then states, "You must vote for Mr. Packer, he is the right man."

A former citizen of Glendale recently returned from the east said to me but a few hours ago in discussing the campaign, "I am informed that Mr. Packer is 'wet'." "Who gave you such information?" I inquired. "Why somebody told me that a committee from a Glendale brotherhood asked him the direct question and he replied that he was wet." In a campaign document published in the San Fernando Valley Sun, issue of November 3, 1916, headed, "What the two Supervisoral candidates for the Fifth District stand for"—and which document by the way is unsigned—appears a similar story except it is attributed to a committee "appointed by a number of citizens." Now as to the truth of these attacks, Mr. Packer tells me that he never made the statements attributed to him and that they are falsehoods. I believe Mr. Packer.

It is a trite saying that "people who live in glass houses should not throw stones" and in another article in the same edition of the Sun entitled, "Cawston Ostrich Farm, Jonathan S. Dodge, President, caught cheating the tax-payers of his own city out of $344.16." The statement appears to be conclusively proved. In the campaign document first above referred to Mr. Dodge is described as a clean, Christian, moral man. I would not question this for the world, except for the matter of the taxes. I have no quarrel with Mr. Dodge, but I am loyal to Glendale and her candidate for Supervisor.

In the Bible we are told of a Christian man, a moral man of many, many, years ago, but he also withheld more than was meet and his name comes down to us as a synonym through all the ages together with that of Saphira, his wife. Voters of Glendale! have you been misinformed concerning Mr. Packer's attitude on the liquor question and thereby are prejudiced against him? If so, give him the benefit of the "square deal," be loyal to your home town and its deserving candidate, vote for him. If still unconvinced, read the proof concerning the alleged "lower taxes" at the ostrich farm and consider carefully before casting your vote for its president, the question, "Am I willing for him to handle my county affairs for the next four years?"

KALEM PICTURE COMPANY

Mr. Horne is at work on the melodramatic story "The Border Wolves," which is being staged at the new Mexican village, which has been built about a mile from Roscoe on San Fernando road, for the purpose of producing this film. There will be exciting battle scenes and other interesting episodes. The Railroad company has moved back to Hollywood, where its members feel they will be more conveniently situated than in Glendale.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

CHARLES W. BELL, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE, ADDRESSES THE STUDENT BODY

That the Democratic administration is curtailing the mails for political purposes was the charge made Friday by Charles W. Bell, candidate for congress, in an address before the student body of Glendale High school.

Mr. Bell spoke under the auspices of the Republican organization of the school. He lauded the many wonderful accomplishments of the Republican lawmakers of America. He declared that it was his party which stood for the union in 1860 and which stands for the union today.

Preparedness was one of the keynotes of Mr. Bell's talk. He said that the Republicans had always believed in preparedness, and declared that America was the least prepared of the nations today.

Calling attention to the parade of the soldier boys who recently returned from the border, he praised their patriotism and their splendid fitness after several months of training.

The speaker recalled a recent address by Theodore Roosevelt in which the colonel predicted a great industrial war between all nations after the present European conflict. Only a Republican President, he argued, would be able to cope with such a problem.

Victory for Mr. Hughes was predicted. After election we will have a Republican President and House of Representatives, and we will once more be proud of America.

Referring to the Congressional fight, he said that he stood for preparedness and prohibition, and that, while he was defeated in the last election, he was back again on the same firm platform. His opponent, he intimated, was opposed to preparedness. Mr. Bell's speech throughout was a plea for Republicanism.

Students in Machine Shop Practice, Forging and Phyiscs journeyed to the automobile show Friday. afternoon. They decided it to be the greatest exhibit of its kind ever seen in Los Angeles. One fellow expressed his opinion that it excelled the last Chicago Auto Show.

At a recent A. 9 class meeting the following representatives to the legislature were elected: Martha Ray, Jack Jenkins and Frank Balthis.

La Tertulia, the high school Spanish club, is planning some jolly affair for this year. Initiation of members will take place at the school next Friday evening. A committee is working on games and distractions for this event, which will mark the opening of the Spanish club activities this year. The Spanish club is one of the liveliest organizations in Glendale high.

The first regular meeting was held yesterday afternoon. In the absence of last year's president, Frederick BButts took the chair. The election of officers for the ensuing year was the first business. The results of the election follow:

Doctor McGillis, president.
Lewis Reid, vice-president,
Margaret Lusby, secretary.
Ida Potter, treasurer.

After the election results were made known, Mr. McGillis took the chair. Miss Fenton spoke of the need of an entertainment committee, and upon motion the chairman was instructed to appoint such a committee. Prospective members will note also that a refreshment committee was appointed.

A good old time spelling match marked the class in Business English Thursday. The team led by Olin Wilson and Bill Balthis defeated the team of Herbert Scheuner and Russell Tummell by one point. Bill is reported to have grown almost an inch since this signal victory. Well, every little helps.

The classes in forging and machine shop practice are making a visit today to the great auto show to study the latest achievements in automobile engineering. A surprising degree of skill in automobile work is being developed in these young mechanics.

Much interest is being taken by the Stylus staff in the meeting of the Southern California High School Editing association, which will take place at Hollywood high school on Friday, November 10. Several pilgrimages to Hollywood are planned on that date, as it is expected that topics of extreme interest to the editors of the school annual will be discussed.

The good reports come from all directions that Stephen C. Packer will be elected supervisor tomorrow. Help swell his Glendale vote.

ive, must be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states, or 36 out of 48.

He knows that with the southern states and many other states opposing woman suffrage, the 36 states cannot be secured to ratify the amendment. Therefore, in my eyes, he is willing to practice deception and to further resort to the billion dollar special carrying the hysterical Hughesettes (who cannot vote at home) to teach California women how to vote, and who required throat specialists to keep their outraged vocal cords constantly keyed up to the hysterical pitch.

Wilson honestly favors woman's suffrage, by the states, as his actions have proved.

The greatest thing, in my judgment, if our president had done nothing more, is that we can close our eyes at night in peace and thank God that our husbands, sons, fathers and brothers are not being butchered as in the horrible European maelstrom. We are at peace with all the world. At peace with honor and prosperity. Everywhere, from other states come to us reports of marvelous prosperity, wonderful crops, factories running at full blast and labor completely employed with higher wages than ever in the history of America.

But what about California, you say? Has President Wilson the power to make hard times here and prosperity in other states?

It would be just as consistent to say Governor Johnson, Republican governor, made our hard times here; but I do not say it. As for the cry of "war prosperity," anyone who wants the truth will find statistics show that our war munition business is only two-thirds of one per cent of the total industrial production of the entire country, and is less than eight per cent of the total exports.

Do some of us not remember the panic of 1907, when Roosevelt was president and script was issued for money?

Thanks to the Wilson federal reserve law, that cannot occur again. At that time we had an antiquated national bank law which both Roosevelt and Taft failed and refused to modify.

All our newspapers admit that our banks were never so prosperous as since the federal reserve law of the Wilson administration was enacted, and that this very law makes panics impossible. We are the richest nation in the world today.

As for the cry of "protective tariff, foreign labor and goods being dumped on our shores" after the war, that is nonsense, as steps are now being taken to form a non-partisan tariff board to handle the question from a scientific standpoint—and I am sure it will prove as fine for our country as has the Wilson federal reserve law.

I am not afraid of the future, and as a woman voter I shall, with greatest satisfaction, cast my ballot on November 7th for a Christian man, a great statesman and the grandest president American has known since Washington—Woodrow Wilson.

MRS. MATTISON B. JONES.

GRASPING AT STRAWS

Grasping at a straw in an endeavor to stem the tide of public opinion that is swinging toward "Capt." William Thomas Helms and his candidacy for district attorney, the forces of the present incumbent are stooping to calumny and falsehood in an endeavor to keep their candidate before the public. With the sentiment strongly in favor of "Capt." Helms, the opposition is prepared to go to almost any extreme in order to win.

From as far away as Calabasas, in the precinct on the extreme corner of Los Angeles county, comes the word that the entire community is for Helms. The campaign there is being pressed by friends of the "Helms for district attorney" movement and as a result Calabasas promises to return a mighty majority for the man who is making this fight on his own merits.

Those who are close to the political forces in this fight say that the present incumbent's workers, who know every political trick of the trade, are preparing to send out literature which they are trying to make themselves believe will have a tendency to change the voters from the support of "Capt." Helms.

Others who have kept close tab on the present fight say, however, that it is now impossible to do anything that will injure the standing of "Capt." Helms, who has come out firmly on the side of temperance and truth and the enforcement of the laws as they now exist and of any new laws or ordinances which may be enacted.—Advertisement.

To the Editor of the News:

On last Thursday evening, at a meeting of those who have planned the "dry" parade in Glendale this evening in the cause of a "dry" California, it was unanimously voted that no card or banner bearing the name of any candidate for office would be permitted in the parade. This is an instruction which will be strictly complied with by the grand marshal and his aides, and all persons are hereby respectfully requested to conform strictly thereto. I repeat that the parade is in the interest of a "dry" California, and all persons interested in the great cause are requested to participate.

WOMEN CAMPAIGN FOR PACKER

Women prominent in clubs and other organizations, active in child welfare and civic betterment, are enthusiastic in their support of Stephen C. Packer for Supervisor for the Fifth district. They realize the necessity of electing to that office a man in close touch with the human side of life; that the supervisor must have had practical experience with welfare and civic work; that he must have, besides a wide business experience, an intimate knowledge of the practical workings of the county affairs, the ability to carefully weigh and decide matters pertaining to the various county departments, dealing as they do with child life, adult dependents, hospitals, county farm, and other departments demanding a humane as well as a practical viewpoint. Mr. Packer has not only had a very successful business career, but he has taken an active part in various phases of civic welfare, not only in his home city but on county committees.

Several women active in county affairs have given, as some of the reasons why Mr. Packer should be elected, the following:

Because he is honest, efficient and capable; has always been successful in his own business and will conduct the business of the county in the same conscientious manner.

Because he is conducting a fair and honest campaign.

Because he stands now just where he always has stood; for the just and equal enforcement of all laws.

Because he stands for the proper protection and environment of our future citizens.

Because of his unwavering attitude in support of all moral legislation and his avowed intention to use his best efforts to promote all such laws in Los Angeles county.

Because he stands for the most constructive legislation, administered with economy, in county affairs.

Lastly because, previous to the primary election, the opponents of Mr. Packer apparently united in an endeavor to designate Mr. Packer as the so-called wet candidate. The official returns of the primary election show beyond a doubt who received the support of the saloon element. Precinct 54, where the Maier Brewing plant is located, the most notorious wet district in the county gave Mr. Packer's opponent twelve times as many votes as Mr. Packer and the section containing every saloon and brewery in the district gave Mr. Packer 167 votes and his opponent 294 votes. This clearly demonstrates where Mr. Packer had his strongest opposition.

The leading women in Highland Park, Garvanza, South Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Glendale, Tropico, Burbank and throughout the valley are actively campaigning in Mr. Packer's behalf. Among those taking a leading part are:

MRS. JANE BEATTY

To the Voters of California

There are two candidates for the office of United States Senator from California. One is George S. Patton, of Los Angeles, Democrat; the other is Governor Hiram W. Johnson, a registered Progressive, who secured the Republican nomination in the August primary election.

Four years ago the Republicans of California were denied the right of voting for their party candidate for President. They were compelled to vote for one of two men for President, neither of whom was a Republican.

In the present campaign the election laws have been manipulated so that the Republicans of the state are unable to vote for a Republican for United States Senator.

Governor Johnson is still registered as a member of the Progressive party, and he refuses to leave that party and become a Republican until after the election.

Mr. Patton is what he has always been—a Progressive Democrat.

California is largely a government by commission. Hiram Johnson has appointed the commissions.

More than 80 per cent of the state appointees are from the north.

Will you approve the action of repealing the law that forbids the Governor of the state from using his high office to elevate himself to the upper house of Congress?

The election of George S. Patton United States Senator preserves the precedent of 24 years.

The election of George S. Patton assures to the people of all California impartial, efficient and effective representation in the United States Senate.

By voting for George S. Patton for United States Senator you vote for a man who will be in touch with the administration and with Congress; who will have beside him Senator James D. Phelan—the two constituting a force for California impossible to attain by any other course at the polls.

As Senator Phelan says: "It stands to reason that two men of the same dominant party in Washington can do more for California than one man."

This Is Plain Business Sense
